

Special Service for our Military Servicemen and Women

For military personnel, financial matters can be of the highest urgency. The number one reason people contact our agency is to correct or prevent problems with security clearance. Financial problems can stop military careers from moving forward. CCCS is here to help provide free financial analysis and coaching for active duty, reserve, retired and veterans.

For a limited time, we are able to offer a free one-year access to FreeCreditScore.com. Reviewing your credit report and score allows you to have a plan to dispute incorrect information and use calculators to help you determine how much your score will improve by paying off debts.

Combining a plan for credit report improvement with one on one financial coaching is a fantastic way to bring security to your financial future and your military career—not to mention reduce stress and help you have a plan to build wealth!

Contact 405-789-2227 today for your confidential assessment, analysis and access to your credit report and score.

If access to a phone is difficult, visit us online at CCCSOK.org. Our counselors will help you by phone or email if visiting the office is too difficult. You can also review other helpful information tailored to the military community on our website under the "military" section.

The important thing is to access help that is available to you. If you are not military but would like to have this kind of service extended to you, please contact us today! We will be happy to help you get on your feet as well.

Sincerely,

Your CCCS of Central Oklahoma Team
